Dedication to Dr. Dan Covington

Student Quotes:

"I owe a round of thanks to Doc for never sugar coating things and never being afraid to tell me the truth"

"Dr. Covington was always there for me with any needs I had, whether it be food for a hungry stomach, or a home for a stray dog."

"He will always be in my book, unforgettable"

Dr. Dan Covington received his Ph.D. in Biology from Texas A & M in 1988. He arrived at Union in 1989. He completed his 23rd year at Union teaching Biology and other sciences this year. Dr. Covington became department chair of the Natural Sciences in 1992--and remains in that position. Dr. Covington has received both the SGA Distinguished Professor Award and the UC Distinguished Faculty Award. For most of his 23 years he has been involved in theatre. In his first play, White Lies, Black Comedy, he found his backside stuck to a chair (upper right hand picture).

Right: Dan Covington as The Common Man in A Man for All Seasons.

Dr. Dan, as he is sometimes referred to, is best known for his cooking (particularly the big cookout he does for the science alums at homecoming), theatre performances, his tough, but fair, teaching and his gruff exterior persona--hiding his heart of gold..

"As soon as I met him, I knew Union was where I wanted to come," says Kelly Evans, M.D., remembering her first meeting with Dr. Covington. "I knew he was someone who would teach me." Kelly appreciates Dr. Covington's completely unpredictable and honest straight-talk, which she believes helped prepare her for the demands of medical school. Yet he was always supportive. "He made biology a family. To this day, I feel comfortable and welcome when I go back," she says.

Ghosts of Union

Speed Hall is Union's most haunted building. Funded by Fannie Speed, the house was built as a dorm for female students and now contains offices. Employees and students report mysterious happenings at night. Doors open and shut at random and lights flicker. Some people report seeing a woman at night and many refuse to enter the building after dark. Rumors are the ghost is a former student or Fannie Speed herself.

Legend says room 245 in Pfeiffer Hall is haunted by a former student. The double sport player accidentally fell out the window to his death on October 30th, 1963. If a person attempts to open the window at midnight it will shut seemingly on its own. This has not been confirmed by Yeabook staff.

At the beginning of the Civil War, the site that was to become Union College was used by the Union army as a recruitment camp. The headquarters for this camp is believed to be where Conway Boatman Chapel sits today. The recruits were suffering heavily from dysentery and other bowel diseases. Some of the recruits died in camp and were reportedly buried in a plot in front of what became Sharpe Academic Center. On September 19th 1861, the camp came under attack by Confederate troops. In the fight, two soldiers were killed along with an unknown number of wounded.

One night, a security guard and two students were inside the music hall doing an investigation. While there, the security guard heard what sounded to be someone coming up the steps by Mama P's office. A few minutes later, the group sat outside the music hall to hear more sounds of walking. One of the students heard the sound of a gun being cocked, a few seconds later smelled burnt black powder and saw a shadowy figure peering around the corner by Dr. Gandy's office. Another student reported the smell of freshly fired gun powder in front of the chapel late at night.

One night during the spring of 2011, a student was outside of Speed Hall around 1:30-2:30 in the morning. There was a light fog. As soon as he got to the street, he reported seeing a figure mounted on horseback riding down the street with a sabre, turn onto campus, and then disappear.

Southern Regional Orientation Workshop

Every year teachers and student leaders across the country prepare for the incoming freshman class. They spend time refining their skills to make sure each new student gets the best possible treatment and to make sure they feel at home on their new campus.

The Southern Regional Orientation Workshop brings together schools from 9 southern states. This year, SROW was held at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Each school has something to bring to the table and Union College is at the top. At SROW, the students learn skills, activities, mentoring techniques and a myraid of other ways to help students transition into college.

Even though Union is a small school, they take 30 students to SROW making them one of the loudest, most energetic and creative groups to attend.

Student Ambassadors

The Union College Student Ambassadors stay busy with over 100 tours, four summer orientations, two open houses, and various group visits throughout the year. All this work equals a whole lot of play.

Orientation

Ambassadors are not afraid to join in on games such as Birdy on a Perch (left) and Trainwreck (bottom left) during orientation days. This makes the whole experience fun for student ambassadors and incoming freshman alike.

This year's Orientation '11 theme was "We're Off!" with a little "Wizard of Oz" flavor. Future freshman were urged to "follow the yellow brick road" from station to station orientation morning.

Ambassadors are prepared to go to work as early as 6 AM orientation mornings, but twins Derrick (right) and Daniel Phipps (left) jump for joy, while Shawn Spoon (center) tries to join in. Despite the early start during the summer months, ambassadors have to be excited and eager to work orientations.

Welcome Weekend

Circles

Aaron McCollum (top right) leads freshmen around Ramsey Circle and Legacy Walk where the end of freshmen weekend ceremonies take place. Freshmen receive a medallion symbolizing their oath to the commitment of Union values.

Dr. Inkster (bottom left) shakes the hand of a freshman after the medal has been placed around his neck. The medallions are placed on freshmen by current faculty and staff, along with upperclassmen at Union College (bottom right).

Phi Alpha & Social Work

The UC chapter Rho Zeta of Phi Alpha (the national Social Work Honor Society) was started during the academic year 2010-2011. They inducted their first two student members (Bethany Outland and Susan Smith) April 2011, as well as two community social workers (Joanne Sizemore and Robin Jones), and one faculty member (Jim Cox). Dr. Martha Ellison was already a member.

Sociology Club

The Sociology club took two trips, one in the fall, one in the spring. The fall trip, in conjunction with Rural/Urban Sociology, went to Museum of Appalachia and Green McAdoo Cultural Center in Tennessee. In the spring they went to Nashville, where they met with a former participant in the lunch counter sit-ins in the 1960s. Coincidentally, they also met Oprah's father! They also had a movie night, as well as an end of the year party. Club members helped Dr. Linda Silber, professor of sociology organize Minorities Day as well. Officers included: Angie Mills, president; Nikki Miller, vice-president; Cass Lawson, secretary. Participants included: Samantha Sayre, Tika Wills, Kyle Williams, DeRon Hicks, Drew Chamberlain, Whitney Herren, Dan Greene, Elizabeth Mills, Kara Pile, Doug King, Jacob Shipley, and Sarah Scruggs.

This route is a fun and moderately hard for first timers to low altitude alpine style mountaineering, but is a great route to learn much needed skills for harder hillbilly mountaineering routes and all around traversing the hills of eastern KY. This route includes obstacles like river crossings, vertical rock climbs and miles of varying hiking conditions from muddy grass lands to almost straight up hillside forests thick with tress and brush of every size.

Faculty Advisor:
Dr. Adam Prokopchak

Psych Bowl Coach:
Graduate Assistant
Jason D. King

Team members: Austin Sebald, Maria Esswein, Ashley Shipley, Amanda Loveless, Ashley Dick, and Leighann King

Psych Bowl is a competition held annually at the Kentucky Psychological Association Spring Conference. This year graduate student Jason D. King was a part of the planning committee, and helped to introduce students to the KPA executive director, and train the students. Students had the opportunity to network with many professional and academic professional psychologists from all across the state of Kentucky.

Psi chi is more than a club, it is a lifetime fraternity promoting academic and professionalism from its members. This year students conducted several fund raisers and organized a structured constitution to model for students in the years to come. This year, the organization was set up to model a parliamentary structure, where students bonded with one another.

Opportunities were presented for members as well. Leighann King volunteered at Turning Point, Child Crisis Stabilization Unit, and was hired as a result. Ashley Shipley and Austin Sebald volunteered with Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center's (CRCCC) Summer Program. Maria Esswein volunteered by assisting a CRCCC in school based interventionist.

Common Partners

Our Union...

We came back from our summer of services: Safaris in Africa, working with children or Governor's Scholar's, even the park service in Gatlinburg, TN and Erlanger, KY. Common Partners started the year off by learning valuable living lessons from Grandma and Grandpa Sebald while fixing up our new meeting place at the Service House.

With a great start to the year, the rookies jumped in and got their hands dirty. So many of us learned that "service" is not just the big projects, but consists of the little things as well. Common Partners took on many new projects this year. We Kicked Childhood Cancer in the "kickball," pursued the Golden can, painted a C.O.W. and said goodbye to a wonderful group of seniors.

...Our community

Even though our children's art program has been going on for a long time, C.O.W. really took off and popped a lot of wheelies this year!

Over two months, we pursued the Golden can. In the end, Union collected 4,795 pounds of food for Knox County. Way to Go!!!

To our Seniors, remember what Socrates said...
"Happiness is not just something you feel, it is who you are."

Spiritual Life

Spiritual life is all about growing spiritually and helping with issues in society. Rev. David Miller, aka Rev. is the leader/advisor of the group. The group has many events each year including: Chapel Services, Bible Study, Dinner With The Rev, Coffee With The Rev, Interfaith Trips, Fall Retreat, and Spring Retreat.

Jackson (Ernie), Josh Hampton (Paul),
Keith Parker (A.D.).

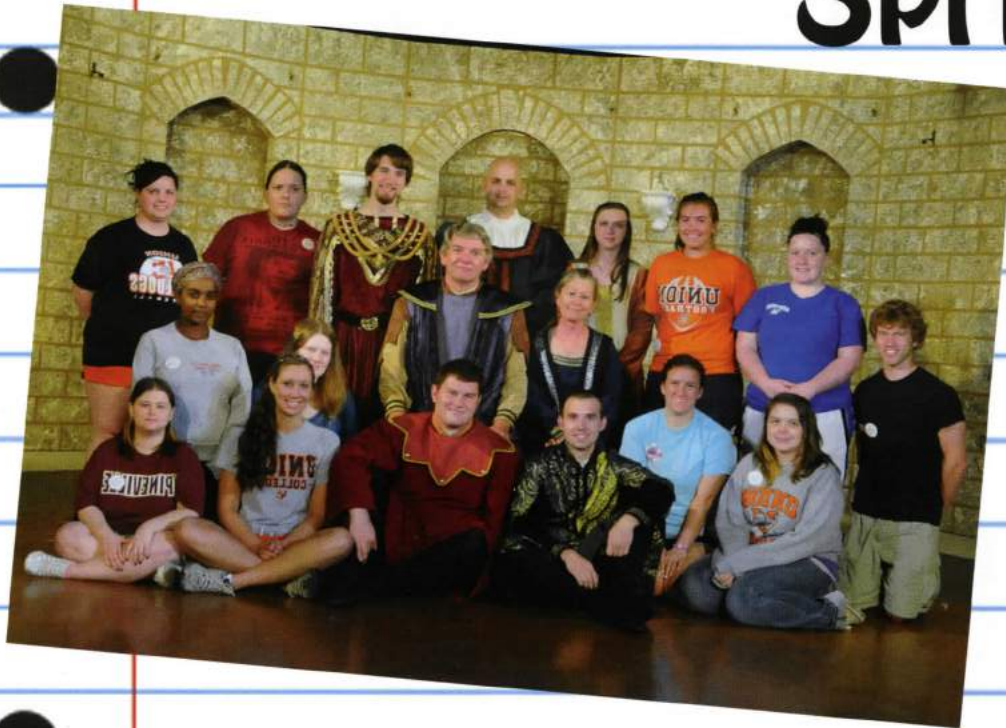

It's the opening night party for the Timberly Troupers, hosted by Dorothy and her troubled husband Charlie. The assorted guests include Nathan (a terrible ventriloquist), Wayne (an overconfident lady's man), Jennifer (a diamond among coal), Ernie and Irene (an impatient, loud couple), and Mona (Wayne's former hippie lover). The guests eagerly await the arrival of Paul Courtland, a renowned critic, and his review of their show. When Paul has to be rushed to the hospital, tempers flare and emotions run wild when the negative review is revealed and causes the troupe to take a second look at their lives.

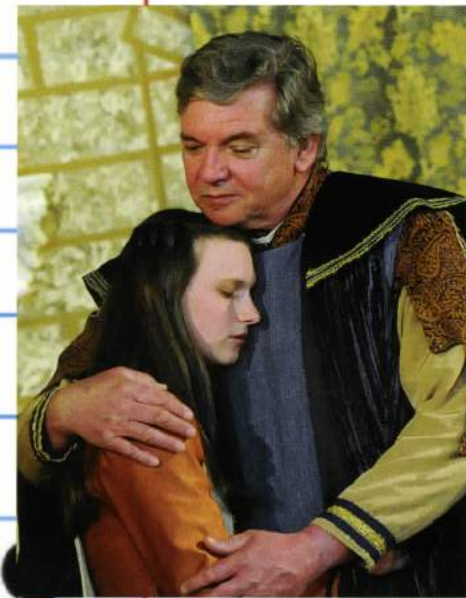

Debbie D'Anna (Dorothy) watches as her friend Josh Hampton (Paul) collapses. Jerry Jackson (Ernie) and Samson Anderson (Wayne) rush to his side to help.

Spring Play

Henry II's life read better than it lived. On Christmas Day of 1183, Henry's sons, strong and brave Richard, cunning Geoffery, and naïve Johnny fight over crown, princess, and province. Aided by their mother, the devious Eleanor of Aquitaine, the family spends the holiday plotting, snapping, and lying to each other. Promises and alliances are made and almost immediately broken. The King of France, young Phillip, has his own intention of getting his sister, Alais, married or her dowry back. With their most recent treason, Henry's sons find themselves in the dungeons with no hope of getting back out as Eleanor is shipped back to her own prison and Henry heads to Rome to get a new wife and begin a new life.

Dr. Covington (King Richard) comforts Emily Baker (Alais).

Alternative Spring Break

After six years, Union traveled back to our Nation's Capital for the United Methodist Social Justice conference on Homelessness and Poverty. The Alternative Spring Break Trip is organized by two interns from Common Partners and Spiritual Life, Jessie Green and Mary Flint. A group of 12 students, the Campus Chaplin, and the Director of Community Outreach all boarded a "Megabus" and traveled from Knoxville to D.C. for a week of sightseeing and Social Justice education.

For two days the group spoke about issues like homelessness, where we were able to speak with three previous homeless people.

Washington DC

Our eyes were opened to the world of being homeless and perceptions were broken. The issue of our nation's budget and how our leaders choose to spend our money was explored. We also spoke on an issue that hit close to home, Mountaintop Removal. The two day conference ended with a Rap session, where we were taught to rap. We created a rap specific to the issues we spoke about over two days..."Appalacha Comin' atch!"

The rest of the week was filled with sightseeing of museums, the national mall, the St. Patrick's Day Parade, and shopping. We also met up with an alum for dinner on our last night. Remember if you ever visit the capital, it is a lot of walking -- Unless you rent a Segway!

Thirty-eight students and one faculty member were recognized during Union College's Honors Day convocation on Thurs., April 12, 2012. Honors Day features 45 awards, most of which are given based on academic performance in specific areas of study and are funded by gifts from donors. Many include a monetary reward for recipients. In addition to the student awards, the annual Student Government Association (SGA) Distinguished Professor Award is presented at Honors Day each year.

This year's recipient is Rebecca Rettys, Ph.D., professor of Theatre.

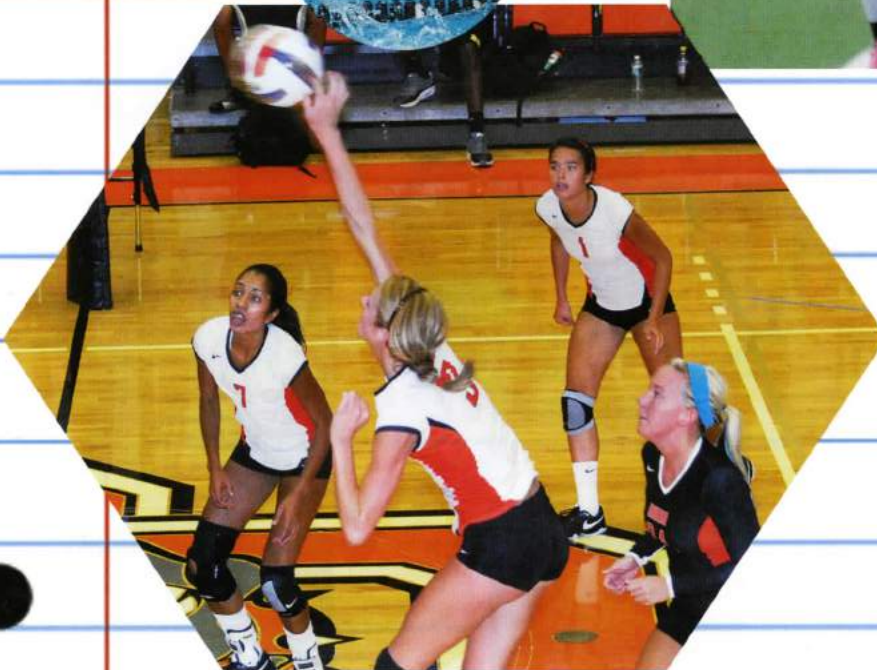

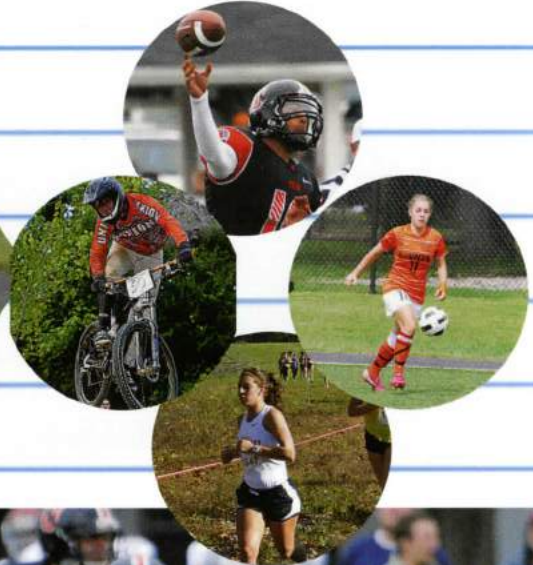

One Day Without Shoes

In spite of rain and cold temperatures, the campus community bared their soles on April 10 in support of One Day Without Shoes. The international event urges participants to go one day without shoes to experience what children and adults in many parts of the world endure on a daily basis. Over the course of the day, bare feet could be seen crossed under desks, propped on tables, leaping in the air and even dangling beneath the chairs of a few professor.

Football

The Union College Bulldogs had a up and down season. One big accomplishment was defeating the University of Cumberlands 24-19 to bring home the Brass Lantern. The last time they brought it home was in 2005. They hope to keep it here a long time.

Coach Reid leads his Bulldogs onto the field.

Sterlin James and Rob Brown celebrate a great touchdown play.

Tyler Ross picks Rob Brown up after a huge touchdown play.

Fred Brown and James Tripp celebrate a defense stop.

Trey Martin and Tyler Ross raise their helmets to the crowd after a huge victory.

Offense

Rob Brown looks to make his move up the middle of the field.

Ryan Moses releases a deep pass down the middle.

Is that a bird or a plane? No, it's Sterlin James going up for a great catch.

Rolando Dyer dives for a great pass to the side line.

Monique Jefferson homes in for a catch from the QB.

Rob Brown slides through the defense and heads up field.

Rolando Dyer looking back for the ball to drop in his hands.

Defense

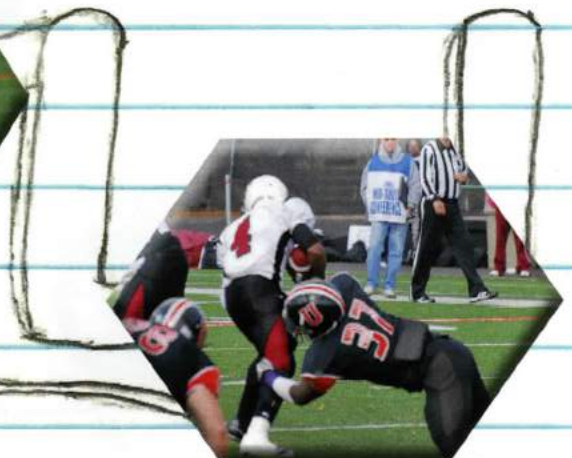

Russell Henry shows his opponent what the ground feels like.

William Roundtree takes his opponent's feet out from under him.

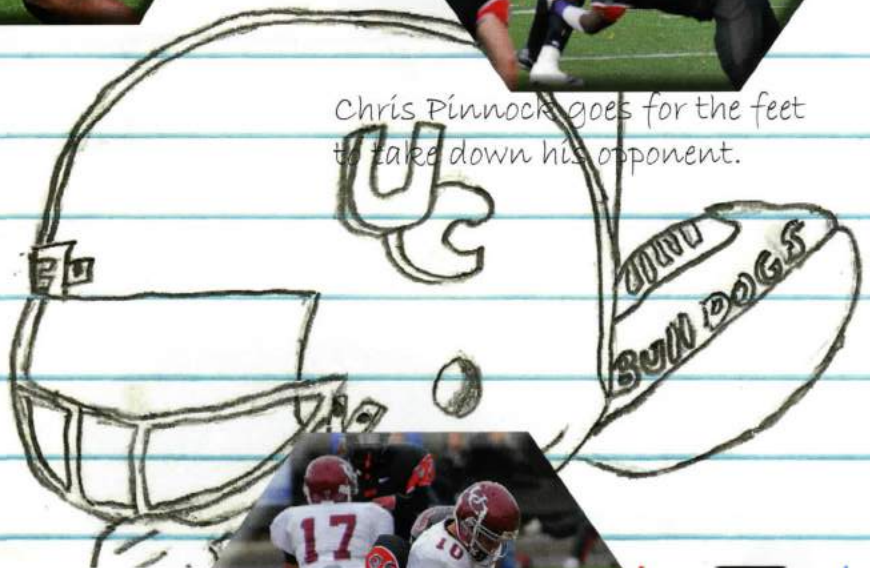

Josh Nixon makes the receiver think twice about catching another pass.

Chris Pinnock goes for the feet to take down his opponent.

William McGarvey makes sure the receiver can't catch a pass..

Fred Brown drags QB of the opposing team to the ground.

The men's basketball team coming fresh off a conference championship and national tournament appearance had a rebuilding year in 2011-12. Injuries and issues provided enough problems to hold the men down early in the season, but the tight knit group of Sean Gillespie came together late to make a run at another national championship berth, but came up short against Tennessee Wesleyan in the AAC tournament. The men did get to play against the Big Blue All-Stars earlier in the season

Softball finished with a 27-17 record this season, improving from last years season with an army of new faces and a mix of veterans in the infield and outfield. The ladies put together quite a season, overcoming a couple of rain outs, but their season came to an end against rival Tennessee Wesleyan 3-1. The Lady Bulldogs say goodbye to seniors, Abby Sears, Morgan Brown, Hillary Leftrick, Whitney Cochran and Gina Loflin. (Featured Above)

The Union baseball team had four players earn a spot on the All-Appalachian Athletic Conference Baseball Team with one making the Gold Glove Team and three more making the All-Academic Team:

Tim Devito (Glendale, Ariz.), Joe Engle (Sidney, Ohio), Chris Fern (Zephyrhills, Fla.) and Brandon Hedrick (Corbin, Ky.) all made the All-AAC Team. This marks the second time Engle received the honor and third for Hedrick.

Union senior Brandon Hedrick earned a spot on the 2012 Capital One Academic All District® 4 College Division Baseball First Team.

The season ended Fri, May 4, 2012 in KINGSPORT, Tenn. The Union baseball team came up just short of winning the 2012 Appalachian Athletic Conference Tournament as top-seeded Tennessee Wesleyan pulled out the 5-3 decision in 10 innings.

Yearbook

Staff

Krystal Webb

This was my second year working on yearbook, I completed many pages and also took plenty of pictures this year. I will be graduating next year from Union and I hope to be able to work on my final yearbook with many of the same people. I put a lot of time into the panel (or student) pages, and I wish you luck in finding the Hoople!

Dave Emerson

Go to class. Don't litter. Most importantly, always remember to take care of your teeth. Good dental insurance is hard to find.

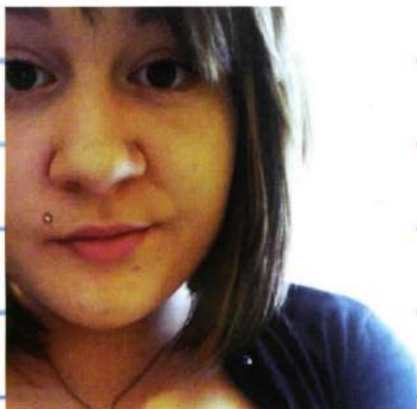

Dr. Christine Marley-Frederick,
Yearbook Advisor

As the yearbook advisor, I spend most of the year just 'yelling' about deadlines--which we almost never make... And then in May I construct about 50 pages and it's done. And then it starts again the next year. So, why do I keep doing this to myself? Clearly I think the students, the school and the story matter.

Yearbook Staff

Bethany Broughton

This was my first year working on yearbook at Union as an editor. I helped plan and did some club pages, including my beloved GSA and put together these pages you are looking at right now. I will be graduated by the time this yearbook is published, and I hope that you look back to it with good memories like I can.

Eric Kinnman

I am a senior mass communication student. I have been a part of the yearbook staff for a year and a half. I created the track & field, cross-country, senior panel, junior panel, and the family page for the yearbook. Since working with yearbook I have learned Indesign and photoshop. I have enjoyed my experience working with yearbook while I have been at Union.

Nikki Miller

I am a senior from Cincinnati, Ohio. I have been on the golf team all four years here and I enjoy sports, and laughing with my friends and family. My goddaughter Ava Nicole is one of the most important people in my life, but I don't know where I would be without the love and support from the rest of my family and friends. This was my first year working on the yearbook, but I really enjoyed it and wished I had participated in the past. The pages I did or helped with were men and women's soccer, freshman action shots, golf, the fall and spring plays, cheerleading, sociology club, non traditional students, Humans vs. Zombies, and I also drew many of the doodles you see throughout the yearbook.

Yearbook Staff

Jon North

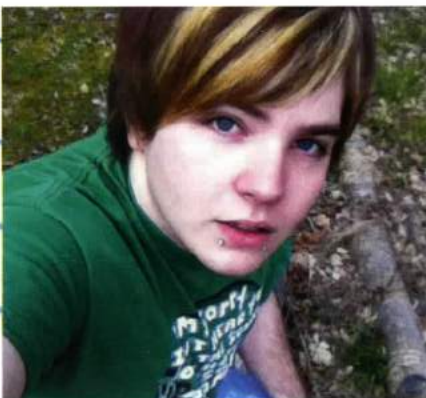

I'm a senior mass comm. major, YES! YES! YES! (wrestling reference, move along) I have done a few pages for the yearbook in the past, but this is the first time I've done multiple pages. I did the men's and women's basketball, softball, orientation, CIRCLES and Welcome Weekend pages. I've enjoyed procrastinating on Yearbook pages this year and rushing to get them done at the end, always an adventure.

Kaye Hiatt

This was my first year working with the yearbook at Union. I will be graduating this year and will miss being involved with the group. I worked on the volleyball and bowling pages and also enjoyed taking pictures.

Cody Sizemore

I'm Cody. I am now a sophomore majoring in Mass Communications. I am a very odd but gregarious person to meet. I did the spiritual life and student support services pages. I also helped take pictures for the freshman page and commuters lounge.

Yearbook Thanks

Cassy Kost

I was in yearbook for the Fall '11 semester. I designed the cover and helped come up with the theme for the yearbook this year. I also contributed some photos. Thanks to Dr. Marley and Sonny Whitson who helped me out a lot with the technical stuff (working with the computer programs). Thanks to everyone who contributed to the yearbook this year!

We would like to give a special thanks to the following for their time, photos and information given to make this yearbook possible.

Introducing...

Following a nationwide search, the Union College board of trustees has named Marcia A. Hawkins, Ph.D., as the college's 19th president. Hawkins will be the first female to lead the institution.

Hawkins, who has built a solid reputation in fundraising, currently serves as associate director for advancement with the National Institute for Technology in Liberal Education in Georgetown, Texas, where she has led a comprehensive effort to establish self-sustainability in response to tough economic times.

Hawkins said she is eager to lead Union College, in part because of its commitment to serve first generation college students, a group with whom she identifies. The granddaughter of a West Virginia coal miner, Hawkins was the first in her family to earn a college degree. After receiving a bachelor's degree from University of Texas at Arlington, she earned a Master of Science in Education, Analytic Teaching from Texas Wesleyan University in Fort Worth. She later returned to University of Texas at Arlington, where she earned a doctorate in history.

She brings to Union a wide breadth of experience in higher education. As president of Texas Independent College Foundation, she developed and implemented various fundraising programs while promoting independent higher education. At Texas Wesleyan University, she filled various leadership roles, focusing strongly on budget management and fundraising.
